

ERP / MES review

Your challenge

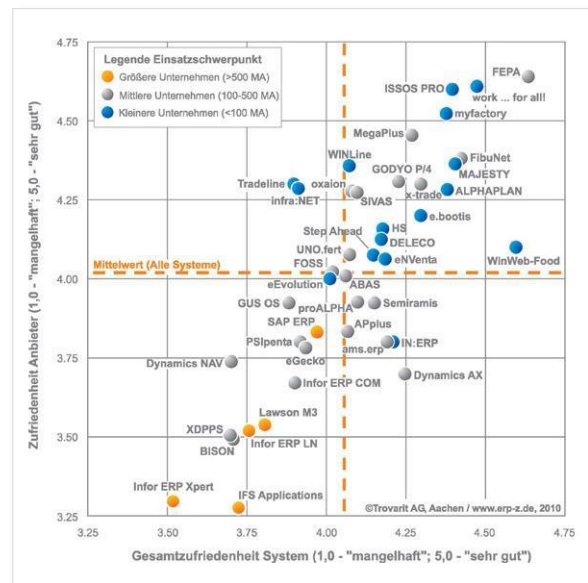

Your company already has an ERP or MES system, but you are convinced that there are better solutions and are looking for an unbiased opinion? You have already selected an ERP or MES system, but are unsure if this solution really suits your business? Then we would be happy to support you in reviewing your previous selection process and results.

Our service

- Analysis and optimization of business processes
- Derivation of requirements from the company processes (including prioritization) and documentation in specifications
- Synchronization of the system functionalities with your specific requirements
- Assessment and documentation of the selection decision made

Your benefits

- Objective review of your selection by independent experts
- Complete and structured specifications as a prerequisite for targeted testing of completeness and suitability of the implementation approaches of the software vendor
- Secure investment decision
- Consideration of long-term production planning expertise and best practice experiences

Our commitment to quality

- Systematic approach coordinated with your input
- Structured documentation of your requirements and a systematic, understandable comparison with the system functionalities
- Comprehensive documentation of results and suggestions for improvement
- Directly applicable results: smooth transferability into your own planning work
